FOLK ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE IN ST. LOUIS.

Continued From Page One, Part Two. some of those high up in the coun sels of the party. I have no apologies to make for my action in this regard, and would do the same thing again. I believe in exposing and dishing corruption in the Democratic party well as in the Republican party. The Democratic party shall not, with my onsent, be used as a clock for villainy. There is no magic in party name to change corrup-tion into innocence. Some partisans insist that the test of loyalty is to stand by the party. right or wrong; to defend the corrupt mem-bers regardless of decency. This policy puts a premium on corruption and weakens a party by driving decent men from it. The man who sees no more in Der caracy than this does not know the meaning of true Democracy.

If wrongdoing exists the sooner it is discovered the better for the party and the State. I do not believe in closing our eyes to corption for fear that by making a fuss about know who the rascals are. No honest man can be injured by an exposure of the truth.

The case of the State of Missouri against the boodlers is before the Democratic party for de-cision. Let the Democracy of Missouri speak in thunder tones upon this mighty issue. There have been a great many fights for freedom in the history of the world, and the battle is not ended yet. The overthrow of corruption in Mis-souri would be one of the greatest victories for good government in the tide of time.

As it is claimed that boodling cannot be an sue, so it was claimed in the days of our forefathers that liberty could not be an issue because all men were in favor of liberty. The Tories opposed the fight for independence, but the war was carried on and American Indewon. If liberty could not have been in twue the United States would have had no

The issue of the cure of corruption has been before the Democratic party of Mis-You will either by your votes said a sessage of encouragement to corruptionists everywhere, or one that will spread consternation in their ranks. Which shall it be? The necessity for the people passing upon this question is shown by the viciousness of the epposition to making it an issue. Does any one suppose that in years gone by, before these exposures of corruption, and before the boodlers were in real danger, there would have en the slightest hesitation to making the ure of corruption an issue? It would have been accepted as an issue upon It would have been accepted as an issue upon a mere suggestion, but it would not have been success. Everybody understands that if it is made an issue now it will not be a mock issue, but one that will result in the complete similarition and routing of the forces of evil. The eradication of corruption from the government of this State can only be accomplished by the people of the State. Public opinion as suppressed in the drastic form of the decisive role on the plain issue of hoodle is, I believe, the only argument that will convince the boodlers that have been convicted that they really did wrome and that boodling is bad. All they know to politics.

But they know that there is good politics.

But they know that there is good politics.

R. H. KERN'S ADDRESS. In introducing the chairman of the evenng, Mr. Kern spoke briefly, in part as fol-

"We are here to indorse the supremacy

"We are here to indorse the supremacy of our party in Missouri for nearly a generation. We are here to say that Woodson, Phelps, Hardin, Crittenden, Marmaduke, Morehouse, Francis, Stephens, Stone and Dockery, our chosen executives, wheded the scepter of power as ably and patriotically for the people as was ever done by any set of Governors on earth. The Democracy has held the grand old Cemmonwealth in the fifth place in this Union. The people propose to add the name of Joe Folk to this illustrious list.
"We are here to sow no seeds of dissension; we are here to criticise the candidacy of no man, we are here to indorse the fearless fight in beaulf of honest government made by the brilliant Circuit Attorney of St. Louis. We are here to congratulate Mayor Wells and St. Louis on his splendid administration of its affairs."

GOVERNOR CRITTENDEN'S SPEECH.

"I have been a resident of Missouri since 1857," he said. "My countrymen, these are good government and good society. This to prostitute the State for his own profit. "After looking over the entire field and

"After looking over the entire field and calmly weighing all candidates—though I never saw Mr. Folk until to-night, and though I do know the three opposing candidates, I say that it is for the best interests of Misrouri that Joseph W. Folk should be nominated for Governor.

"They say he is a young man, he is not a good Democrat, he is here to obtain office and not to serve the people. I am an old man. If I, who have stayed with the party through its ups and downs, and think I know a good Democrat, can support Mr. Folk. I should think some of these young men could stand it.

"I stand by the courts. If they are wrong, they can revise their opinions. Let the people act on the appeal which has been made to them." INTEREST OF GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Given Campbell was the first speaker in troduced by Governor Crittenden. He said: "I cannot forbear when looking over this crowd of serious faces to call to mind that we are here in the interest of In speaking of Mr. Folk, Mr. Campbell said that Folk succeeded upon the prin-said that Folk succeeded upon the principle that "I will do right."

"He has attracted the attention of the President of the National Government," said Mr. Campbell, "by his perserverance in office, and by following strictly the honest principles which he advocated before his election, and to which he has adhered to throughout his administration. "His faithful performances of duty has lifted him in the admiration of the people of Missouri, and has placed him on a firmer standing than some of his young associates, who would like to be Governor of Missouri."

In referring to the attendance of Folk element from the country, Mr. Campbell said:
"The hundreds of men who have as-clement from the country, Mr. Campbell and only one that can teach them anythans the work which is the bespie's work, not mine.

Mr. Folk spoke for an hour and a quarter. Preceding his climax a disturber in the back tobby aroused indignation among his neighbors and was put out of the hall by the police.

ADDRESS OF J. W. MYTTON.

James W. Mytton, former Prosecuting Attorney of St. Joseph and one of the leading supporters of Mr. Folk in Northwest Missouri, followed Mr. Folk in a brief speech. He said:

I came soft miles to this meeting. I bring a messure from St. Jeseph to St. Louis are for him without the advice of any machine and without police interference at Democratic primaries, for Governor Dockery is big enough and has the small and the candidacy formed in the naint meant the candidacy formed in the pain garden of my sandiancy formed in the candidacy formed in the candidacy formed in the pain garden of my sandiancy formed in the candidacy formed in the Organ of Dent County and former Senator H. Hohenschild of Phelis County.

The meeting was called to order at 10:30 by Chairman Thomas E. Mulvihill of the St. Lauis City Committee. He introduced the St. Lauis City Committee with the St. Lauis City Committee of Troy. Following short speeches by Messrs. Mulvihil and Evans, Congressman Vandiver spoke briefly regarding the purposes of the meeting.

Guidons located the seats for the delegates from the different congressional districts. Upon motion vice presidents, assistant secretaries, members of the Committee on Resolutions and members of the General Campaign Committee were chosen by the delegates in attendance, as follows:

Following were the committees, the numerals indicating the congressional districts:

Vice Presidents—1, W. O. L. Jewett, Shelbina; 2, E. R. Stephens, Linneus; 3, W. H. Woodson, Liberty; 4, J. W. Mytton, St. Joseph; 5, J. M. Lowe, Kansas City; 6, O. B. the Resolutions Committee reported through Chairman D. C. Allen of Liberty as follows:

Whereas, We, as Democrats of Missouri, a part of that mighty historic party built by the genius of Jefferson, Madison and Jackersh, upon the heroism of the Revoution, are and have a right to be proug of the record of the Missouri Democracy from the administration of Governor Woodson to that of Governor Deckey inclusive, giving to the people of the State Riberty, recurring and peace at home and fame abroad as a State, subject to the lowest rate of taxation of any State in the Union, a condition produced under an unbroken line of Democratic administrations, alike distinguished for patriotism, integrity and ability; and.

Whoreas, it is the earnest wish of all faithful Democrats in our State that Democratic rovel and continuous of strengths and continuous of strengths fellow to that of the past; and Whoreas, Such continuance of supremacy can only proceed from the considence of the becale in the Democratic party, and confidence is based on the belief in the ability and courage of Democratic of give homes given belief to the people of the people in the Democratic party, and confidence is based on the belief in the ability and courage of Democratic to give hones grovenment and a faithful enactment and administration of the laws of the State; and

Whereas, in these latter days, at a time when citizens have become less watchul from long exemption from ordinary perils of government, evil men have ceited into obtained and the second of stream and municipality, both ne Democrate to the second neutricipality, both ne Democrate of site and municipality, both ne Democrates in the second of site and municipality is the most the indignation of all good and faithful citizens throughout the State; and
Whereas, The charge and the state of good givernment and faithful citizens should be a supplement of the state of the second of the state of good givernment and relentess warfare on corruption in office, one whose heart and minicipality and cour on corruption in office, one whose heart and mind are in harmony with these noble purposes; and Whereas. The history of pelittier, both in State and mation, record the fact that occasionally some one man of the hour occupies a position and attitude toward conditions existing that makes that one man the logical standard-hearer of his party; and Whereas. The Honorable Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis, one of our fellow-Democrats, at this time occupies an attitude and position toward unfaithful and corrupt officials by his exposure and prosecution of helbe givers and hibst-takers and his courantous attack on corruption in both places, and in his determination to both the property of the property of the courtry in feeder hands, makes aim the logical standard bearer and candidate of the Democratic party for dovernor in 1991; therefore, Be it resolved. That we, as Democrats in subile conference assembled, to select the Honorable Joseph W. Folk as our leader, as an exponent of our wishes, about and around whose hanner all lovers of good noverment may rally, and whose voice cives forth the notes, of attack on the unfaithful and war unrelenting on "boodlesism" and on whose bander is already insertied "Victory!" and

Be it further resolved. That we have determined to place his name before the Democratic State Convention of our State in 1986 as a candidate for Governor; but we believe any honest Democrat in the State has a right to aspire to this high honor; and we believe also that Mr. Folk's friends and supporters have a right to urge his nomination without being challenged; and we believe he is the choice of a vast majority of the Democratic of the State by a spontaneous manly will and wish, with an eye aimple to the good of the State and terretuity of Democratic principles in her borders; and

That we recognize Mr. Folk as an honest man, of unsurpassed courage as an effect, whose public and private life are without appt or blemish, a Christian grantenan, an ofner of distinguished ability and firmners, and a Democrat of the highest type.

And we pleage ourselves to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

Judge Evans called upon representatives

new patterns, worth $1.75, for one-half hour Monday.....

that the agricultural character of the district made an honest constituency which could be depended upon to go for Folk. "The only doubtful county," he said, "Is Ray County, but I think that if we call out the manhood of the county we can carry it as easily as Clay."

"The people of the Fourth District," said L. J. Eastin, "saw Mr. Folk when he made his announcement, and the district is for him, with the possible exception of Platte County. Even though St. Joseph is the third largest city in the State, I think we can carry it. The 7,000 laboring men of St. Joseph are for him, as well as the business element. The rural counties of the Fourth are for Mr. Folk, as in other parts of the State."

Sam H. Woodson of Independence said that Jackson County, the Fifth District, had a "machine." "We have a candidate in our county," he said, "but if the old-time policy of the State Committee is followed there will be at least one legislative district with delegates for Folk. I think it exceedingly doubtful if Reed can carry Kansas Cliy."

"All but two counties of the Sixth Dis-district with delegates for Folk. I think it exceedingly doubtful if Reed can carry Kansas City."

"All but two counties of the Sixth District are represented to-day," said C. A. Calvert. "I think every one of them are for Folk. Even Cass County cannot be carried by Reed, as has been claimed. The rark and file are for him. The farming people believe that at this time there are not enough politicians in the State to rut aside the issue of boodle and its longical representative. Mr. Felk, "Favorite sons' will have to step aside this time."

J. W. Montsomery of Sedalla said that he believed that all of the people living in the farming districts are for Folk and good government. "The people are in dead earnest." he said. "The people are in dead earnest," he said. "The people are in dead earnest," he said. "The people are tired of a dead-letter niank against lobbying. We know that without the plank Mr. Folk will put it down. We must organize-meet organization with organization. We represent the men who pay the taxes, not the men who draw the sailaries from the public crib."

J. D. Starke of the Eighth District said that he did not know about Moniteau, but that the other countless of the district were safe. "We may lose Jefferson City." he said, "but we will carry the rest of Cole County and have a delegation in the State Convention."

he said, "but we will carry the rest of Cole County and have a delegation in the State Convention."

Former Lieutenant Governor Bolte for the Ninth District said that the farming elements were all for Folk, "The most eloquent testimonial to our interest in Mr. Folk," he said, "is that delegates from our district have overflowed the space allotted to it."

F. L. Haydel, speaking for the southern part of the Tenth District, was for Folk, the only danger being from opposing brewing interests. J. A. C. Hiller, from St. Louis County, said that the Democratic farmers and business men of St. Louis County were overwhelmingly for Folk. "The only danger is that some opponents," he said, "may stray out and pack our mass meetings, but we don't propose to let them."

Frank M. Estes said that it was supposed the Eleventh District was for Hawes. "We have not perfected our organization," he said, "out men are attending to this matter who know how to fight. I will not show our hand by telling whom they are, but they are worthy men in a fight. All the laboring men are for him. While the district is doubtful, yet I think in thirty days it will be safe."

G. W. Harris of the Twelfth said that the people of his district were for Folk and that the business men were for him. "If we can get out the people and have a fair primary," C. P. Sterne, speaking for the laboring men of the Twelfth, said that he knew from association that if "we are able to have a fair primary, Mr. Folk will have 50 per cent of the vote."

Representative Homer H. Weaver of the Tail-teenth seid that the men who plow and who feed the cattle, the miners and the business men are for Folk overwhelmingly. For the Fourtreenth, R. S. Douglas of Malden said that in his section the Democrats believed that the only way to show opposition to corruption was to nominate Folk. We was followed by L. H. Meredith, who gave an account of Hawes's meeting in Poplar Huff. "There were only list persons at the meeting," he said, amid And we pledge cursilves to use all honorable means to secure his nonination.

Judge Evans called upon representatives from each district to tell of the conditions in their sections of the State. W. O. L. Jewett of Shelbina, from the First District, said that so far as he knew every county in his district was for Folk. Every one of the five Democratic papers in Shelby County is for Folk. "With reasonable organization," he said, "every county can be depended upon to send Folk delegations to the convention."

"I have only canvassed in Randolph and Chariton," said W. S. Hall of the Second District. "Randolph is doubtful. Chariton is absolutely safe. We have secured the consent of every committeeman and candidate for county office to put the names of the four candidates for office in the primary and we will avery it for Folk. Lynn County is safe, I believe."

D. C. Alien of the Third District said

"I am sorry I cannot say that our district is for Folk." said Marion Staples of Joplin. Our State Committeeman is fighting Folk. But we have something up our sleeve which will do the work. Mr. Folk will be with us January 22, when we will have a rousing meeting."

Former Sanator H. H. Hohenschild of the Sixteenth District referred to the influences that had resulted in one "magnificent mistrial" of a Senator from his district. "The people are for Folk." he exid. "I have heard from every county of the district and I know the masses of the people are for him."
